Terms

1. These website terms of use explain legal aspects of our website and your use of it. Your use of our website indicates your acceptance of these website terms of use.
2. These website terms of use incorporate Saville Capital's privacy policy.
3. Copyright and other intellectual property in our website belongs to Saville Capital ©.
4. You must not use or distribute any information, images, screens, web pages, logos or brands from our website in any public way (including reproduction on the Internet or digital copies) without Saville Capital's written permission.
5. You may not use or permit use of any part of our website for any purpose other than that intended (which is the provision to you of general product and service information, and information about Saville Capital).
6. The information contained on our website, Saville Capital.co.nz and related sub domains, has been prepared under New Zealand law and is for the supply of products and services in New Zealand only. Unless otherwise stated, references to any currency are references to New Zealand dollars.
7. We make reasonable efforts to ensure that the material presented on our website is accurate and up-to-date, but Saville Capital does not accept any responsibility for any error, omissions, inaccuracies, or for any loss or damage resulting from reliance on or use of the information on our website.
8. Saville Capital may amend or add to our website at any time.

9. Our website may contain links to other websites operated by third parties which are not under the control of Saville Capital. Saville Capital is not responsible for the information on any other site accessed via this website; that information is the responsibility of the owner of that site. Saville Capital has no control over it. Saville Capital provides links to other sites for convenience only, and the inclusion of a link does not imply any endorsement, investigation or verification by Saville Capital of the linked site or the services offered by the site owner.
10. When providing your personal information over the Internet, you should remember that the Internet is not a secure environment. Any personal information provided to Saville Capital when you use our website will be subject to Saville Capital's privacy policy.
11. Saville Capital may use any suggestions you make for changes to this website, without any obligation to you.
12. To help improve our website and our advertising, we may use patterns and other meaningful information gathered from web analytics tools. This may include traffic to, from and within our website, your mouse-click activity, your IP address, and other information that you voluntarily enter into the website.
13. We may use cookies and other digital tracking tools when you're on our website. Cookies are small pieces of information which can be stored on your hard drive or memory. They allow us to track and target the interests of our website users. The cookies we send to your PC cannot read your hard drive or command your computer to perform any action. Any information we collect and share with third parties through cookies is aggregated and therefore anonymous (it doesn't include personal information which is likely to identify you).
14. The information we collect via cookies and other digital tracking tools we use may be used for security purposes, to help us identify you, to provide you with personalised features, for tracking traffic on our website and for measuring, optimising and improving performance. This helps us to be able to deliver advertisements to you for our products and services we think may be of interest to you, both on our website and third party websites. You can prevent new cookies from being installed and delete existing cookies. The procedure depends on which browser you're using. For information on how to remove cookies check your internet browser. You may be unable to log on to our secure services without accepting our cookies.
15. In addition, our website may use third party cookies from Google Analytics for Display Advertisers. This includes features which give us insight into behavioural information relating to visitor age, gender and interests on an anonymous and aggregate level, and who has viewed our advertising. This helps us to understand browsing behaviour to give a better experience whilst visiting our website, and to optimise our advertising, including on and outside our website. Access Google's Privacy Policy.

16. Saville Capital may change these website terms of use at any time. Saville Capital will usually give at least 14 days' notice of changes, by publishing them on our website. Your continued use of our website will indicate acceptance of the amended website terms of use.
